Republican and Citizens' Tickets in the Field-Victory Goes to Republicans-Pawcatuck Fire District Meeting-Pupils' Recital-Business in Probate Court.

There was a very light vote polled in Tuesday's election. There were but two tickets in the field, the regular republican and the citizens' nomination paper, therefore the time to vote, being confident that there was no doubt as to the general result, the election of the republican candidates, as the citizens of the republican candidates, as the citizens of the republican candidates, as the citizens of the republican with the exception of nominees for councilmen.

The total registered vote of the First district is 621. The polling place was the town hall with the following programme was rendered:

The vote was one of the lightest in years, but the republicans elected their seven councilmen by good safe majorities. Connectionan John T. Edmund, who received 504 votes, made the high figure for the day, much scratching being noticesfole all through the ticket. The seven republican councilmen elected were William L. Clark, president: Albert H. Langworthy, Clarence C. Manson, William Curry, M. W. Flynn, John T. Edmund and Wayland Saunders.

Moderator Albert G. Martin presided at the annual meeting of the Pawoatusk fire district. Clerk Paul H. Hillard read the official call and the records of the meeting of 1910. Henry A. Stahle read the raport of the board of engineers and submitted the recommendations. He reported that the fire apparatus and engineers that the fire apparatus and engineers was in fine condition and that the volunteer firemen were fully qualified to cope with fire in any emergency. There was ample fire hose and therefore no need for an appropriation for new hose at this time. The recommendation for the usual payment of $250 to P. S. Barbar Hose company was approved. In order that the department could better hold the annual inspection and parade, it was voted to make an annual appropriation of $75 for that purpose. This year the event will be the same as a year ago, but it is probable that in the future there will be unless with the department of the Westerly fire district, as this appropriation will aid majorially in gaying the expenses.

The seport of the treasurer. Civide I Spenser, showed an increase of 5000 in the indobtedness of the district. The report together with the report of Tax Collector Alexander Gavitt, was approved and accepted for record.

Afford R. Stillman, chairman of the four of trustees of the P. S. Barber Memorial fund reported the income to have been $31 and that sum had been paid into the treasury of the hose company has

The P. S. This places every member of the department on equal footof the league. This places every member of the department on equal footing in the league and entitled to all benefits in the event of being injured while in the performance of fire duty. The board of officers was unanimously re-elected as follows: Albert G. Martin, moderator; Paul H. Hillard, clerk: Claude I. Spencer, treasurer; Alexander Gavitt, tax collector; Henry A. Statin, chief engineer; John E. Mc-Mahon first assistant; Frank Dawley, second assistant; Howard E. Reynolds, third assistant;

Worse Than the Wilson Bill.

(Special to The Bulletin.) Washington, June 6.—Representative

The Wilson bill made a good start towards chaning the woolen manufac-turers out of business, and if continued

turers out of business, and if continued a few years longer might have done it kery effectively. It did allow the foreigners to flood our markets with low priced goods, which were not consumed for a long time after the Dingley bill had become a law, "The Wilson bill gave us free raw material and 50 per cent, ad valorem on our fine goods, but the proposed Underwood bill charges us 20 per cent, on our goods. In order to make it anywhere near equitable as compared with the Wilson bill, we should have, under the new tariff, 60 per cent, on our goods to equalize the 26 per cent, extra charged on the raw material.

"Mr. Underwood says that he ex-

Mr. Underwood says that he expects to have forty million dellars worth of goods imported, which lets the cat out of the bag. In other words, he wants forty million dellars worth of goods made abroad, instead of in this country, and that of course means the stopping of ourr mills here, and our workmen will be idle and suffering and the soap houses will have to be started again, as in the time of the Wilson bill.

ed again, as in the time of the Wilson bill.

"The woolen mills are beginning to feal the effects of tariff reduction talk very seriously. Our customers refuse to buy goods when there is a possibility of purchasing them later, here or abroad, at a less price, and it is going to be a very serious matter.

"Ad valoren duties are never fully collected, and no foreign country enacts such duties where it is possible to use specific duties. We have very recent evidence in the woolen and other lines of serious underveloations, and they are going on every day and cannot possibly be stopped, but the pound duties are sure and the government gets its meney and the hopest importer gais a fair competition under that method of duty."
